York Water District to Conduct Leak Detection Survey on its Underground Piping

By Gary Stevens
July 10, 2014

York, Maine - Beginning Monday July 21st, 2014 York Water District will conduct a leak detection survey on its underground piping located in the Town of York. A leak detection survey identifies leaky pipes in a water system.

The work will be completed by New England Utility Management Enterprises (NEUME), LLC of Richmond, Maine and consists of using qualified personnel and state-of-the-art Digital Correlation Technology and the use of a ground mic, to pinpoint possible leaks in underground piping. You can expect to see NEUME leak survey technicians working around hydrants, gate valves and services throughout town for several weeks.

Once a leak has been detected York Water District maintenance crews will excavate and repair the leak(s) as soon as possible. There will be no disruption in water service during the leak detection survey and some disruption of service is possible in areas where leaks are detected and repaired.

Repairing leaky pipes will reduce wear on equipment; lower operating costs for treating, pumping and storing water and reduce the amount of electrical power used.

If you have any questions please call the York Water District at (207)-363-2265 or visit us on the web at www.yorkwaterdistrict.org
